Justice Day Resigns As Umpire On War Claims

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Justice Day, former associate justice of the supreme court, today presented to President Harding his resignation as umpire of the mixed claims commission.

Mr. Day explained to the president that his desire to resign was due to the recognition of the enormous amount of work facing the commission with claims amounting to $1,479,064,313.92, and to his belief that a younger and stronger man should be in charge of the work of adjusting claims on which the American and German commissioners are unable to agree. The resignation becomes effective immediately.

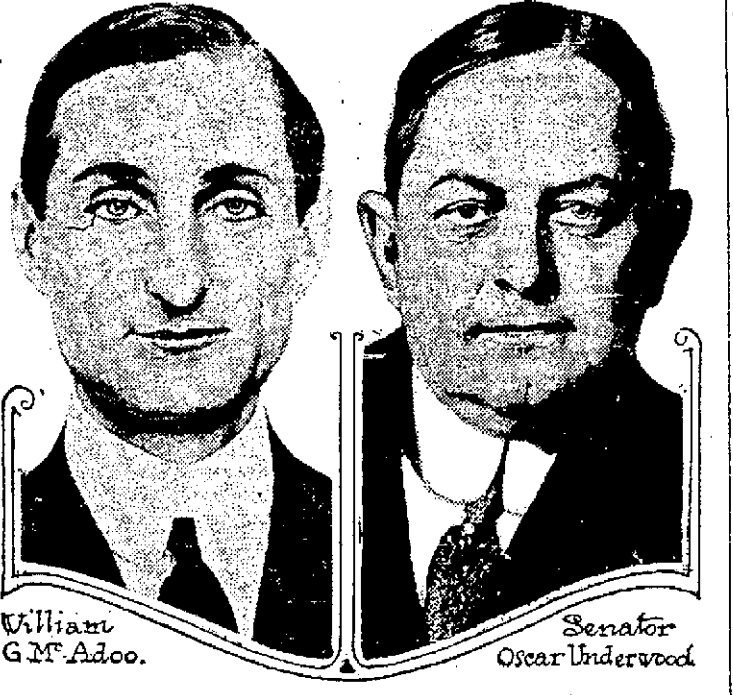

A former secretary of state and for twenty years a justice of the highest court, Mr. Day was regarded by both American and German statesmen as a particularly fortunate selection for the place from which he is now resigning. His appointment was by mutual agreement of the two governments and the necessity of selecting a new umpire is expected to delay somewhat the work of adjustment on which the claims commission already has entered.

In some quarters it was suggested today that Edwin T. Parker, of Texas, the American member of the commission might be chosen umpire because of his familiarity with the claims already facing settlement.

Justice Day had passed the retirement age before he resigned from the supreme court bench last October and has been receiving retired pay as well as a salary as umpire. He is 74 years old. He said today that he expected to spend the rest of his life in retirement at his home at Canton, Ohio.

The agreement with Germany for settlement of the war claims, signed in Berlin last August, provided that the commission umpire shall be chosen by the two governments by agreement and shall have a voice in the proceedings only when the American and German members are unable to agree. At the time the agreement was made, however, Justice Day was agreed upon for the place with the result that the German government formally expressed its desire that the president of the United States designate the umpire. The appointment followed at once.

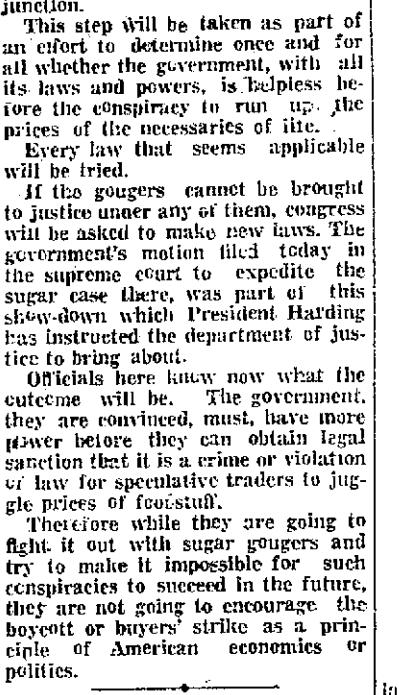

Underwood And McAdoo May Seek Nomination

William G. McAdoo. Senator Oscar Underwood.

According to reports from Washington, United States Senator Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, will toss his hat into the ring for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency when he returns from his European tour, some time next month. It is declared he has already sounded out the political leaders in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Illinois. His chief opponent for the nomination, it is reported will be William Gibbs McAdoo, now of California, son-in-law of Woodrow Wilson.

Charges Mrs. Croker With Bigamy

Mrs. Ethel Croker.

Mrs. Ethel Croker White, of Cedarhurst, New York, daughter of the late Richard Croker, for many years leader of Tammany Hall in New York, has been permitted by the Irish court in Dublin to interpose and become party to the suit brought by her brothers and sisters to break the will of their father, leaving several million dollars to his second wife, Beulah Benton Edmondson Croker and cutting off his children. Croker, whose first wife, Miss Elizabeth Frazier, whom he married in 1873, died, immediately married Miss Edmondson, a Cherokee Indian Princess. In her fight to break her father's will, Mrs. White alleges that at the time of her marriage to Croker, Miss Edmondson was the divorced wife of Guy Morone, of Northport, Massachusetts, and that Croker was ignorant of that fact. Croker spent the last years of his life in Ireland, where he died and was buried. He had long been estranged from all his children.

Sees Germany Huge Power

LONDON, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Germany's historian, Dr. Max Kerner, predicts that in twenty years Germany will be the most powerful nation in Europe with a government like Great Britain.

Urges American Embassy

SHANGHAI, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Dr. H. Martens, a physician, returning from a relief mission to the Shanghai mountain where fourteen prisoners are held by bandits, reported today that the consensus of opinion among the captives was that foreign intervention was the only possible means of affecting their release.

The bandits, said Martens, utterly discredited and distrust Chinese officials and are eager to deal with foreigners.

Chevalier Musso, wealthy Italian attorney of Shanghai, one of the captives, wrote saying that the bandits still were surrounded by troops. He urged direct negotiations between foreign officials and the bandits, excluding Chinese from the parleys. "Immediate steps should be taken," he added, "otherwise we will be killed. My state of health is very bad. I await death calmly."

The American chamber of commerce of Shanghai has telegraphed the American Legation in Peking, urging direct foreign negotiations and asking measures to affect the release of the hostages with the employment of foreign troops if needed and once.

Senor Verea, released yesterday by the bandits, who still hold her husband, Manuel A. Verea, a Mexican citizen, has arrived here distraught and unharmed and is under medical care.

Passengers Rescued

SANDUSKY, O., May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The passenger steamer Chippewa, plying between the mainland and the islands, is aground in the Bay of Middle Bass Island, where she went on late last night while returning to this city from Toledo. Damage, if any, thus far appears to be slight.

SANDUSKY, O., May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The steamer Mesquite took 20 passengers off the steamer Chippewa this morning and brought them to this city. The Chippewa, after being aground here and Lake Erie Islands, is still aground off Middle Bass Island, where she went on last night while returning to Sandusky from Toledo.

Bonar Law Forced To Resign As British Premier Due To Ill Health

LONDON, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The physicians of Andrew Bonar Law, retired British prime minister, this afternoon issued the following statement:

"Mr. Bonar Law had a slight operation on the throat today. Otherwise his condition is unchanged."

No Successor Named

LONDON, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Great Britain bids fair to remain without a premier through today at least. King George who is in Aldershot, had up to this afternoon asked no one to accept the premiership, in succession to Andrew Bonar Law, who resigned yesterday, so far as known to the public.

The king, it is said, has no present intention of curtailing his visit to Aldershot, which is expected to last most of the week. Meanwhile the two most promising prospects for head of the government, Earl Curzon and Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer are in the country for the Whitstable holidays, and plan to remain away until Wednesday.

Curzon Tipped For Premiership

LONDON, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Political gossip is almost unanimously of the opinion that Marquess Curzon, secretary of state for foreign affairs, will be offered the premiership and that either he or Stanley Baldwin will be the successor to Andrew Bonar Law, who has resigned due to ill health.

Lord Derby, also spoken of as a possibility for the office. The Earl of Balfour's age is generally regarded as ruling him out, although it is suggested that he might take the premiership in the event—which at the moment is considered altogether unlikely—existing schemes in the conservative ranks are healed and all agree to put together.

The Daily Herald, Labor's newspaper, says Curzon's appointment would be a disaster for Britain and for Europe. Lord Curzon's supposed aloofness and reputed attitude of unbending superiority are alluded to by many writers who, however, do not think he should necessarily be barred from the post. With Lord Curzon as premier, Mr. Baldwin, it is assumed would become leader in the house of commons. His present reputation rests largely upon such recent events as his debt mission to the United States, his successful budget and his generalship in the house of commons since Bonar Law's absence.

The ultra-conservative Morning Post, ignoring Curzon's left lineage and connections, calls emphatically for Mr. Baldwin's appointment.

25 KILLED, 160 INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

(Copyright, 1923, by The U. P.)

Twenty-five persons killed, 160 injured in auto accidents in 22 cities throughout the country over the week-end, it was shown in the weekly compilation of the United Press today.

St. Paul, San Francisco and Buffalo reported three deaths each; two in New York, Reading, Pa., and Wilmington, Del., and one in each of the following:

Washington, Detroit, Marshfield, Mass., Fort Smith, Ark., Dallas, Tex., Macon, Ga., Columbus, O., Sandusky, O., Cleveland, O., and Steubenville, O.

Twenty-eight were injured in Cleveland; 18 in New York and 13 in Chicago.

Scores Rescued From Tops of Houses And Trees Cloudburst Sweeps Town

SAYRE, OKLA., May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Three persons believed to have been drowned in flood- ed Short Creek following a cloudburst Sunday night, arrived here safely today. Train service through flood- ed area is again normal. Most of the damage caused by the waters will be confined to ruin of stock in stores which were flooded several hours Sunday night.

SAYRE, OKLA., May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Three persons are missing after a cloudburst which precipitated six inches of rain in forty-five minutes last night. Short Creek left its banks and spread into a stream five blocks wide through the center of the town.

Nearly three hundred farm laborers, oil field workers and their families were rescued from the tops of their tents, houses and trees.

The water began receding at midnight after causing damage here estimated at $80,000. The railway station at Drexler, four miles east of Sayre, early today stood in water seven feet deep. Half tons larger than walnuts fell immediately preceding the rain and added to the confusion.

Russia Refuses To Yield

MOSCOW, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Leonide Krassin, Soviet representative in London, is unofficially understood to have been instructed to inform the British foreign minister that Russia cannot yield in principle from its recent note replying to the British ultimatum. The instructions, it is said, were sent as the result of a Soviet government conference last night.

While willing to make some temporary arrangement regarding the fishing rights of the British trawlers off the Murmansk coast, such as limiting the territorial zone and adjusting other secondary points pending general negotiations, Krassin still insists that the differences between the two countries can only be adjusted by a conference, particularly on eastern questions. It is pointed out that

$1,479,064,313.92 U. S. War Bill Against Germany

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—With a war bill aggregating $1,479,064,313.92 already presented against Germany by the United States and on behalf of its citizens, to the mixed claims commission, a considerable number of other claims await settlement through diplomatic channels. The 12,416 claims filed with the commission, according to the reports of Robert C. Morris, American agent, made public today, comprise the vast bulk pending against Germany but do not include many filed after the time limit, April 10, last, as fixed by the commission.

These are regarded as beyond the commission's purview because of their tardiness and are to be adjusted by the state department with the German foreign office.

With the Lusitania claim heading the list, hearings already have begun by the mixed claims commission. Decisions of the commission will be announced, it is stated, but under its rules the reasons for findings need not be given.

Its hearings and procedure are closed to the public and even to claimants or their counsel.

Most of the claims filed, it is expected, will be disposed of through decisions on test cases. The United States government claims, however, are regarded as in a special class. "The others arise from the Lusitania sinking, other submarine warfare damage, German raiders' operations, the war risk premiums, property seized in Germany or occupied territory, damages from German bombs and mines; prize court losses, insurance, parcel post losses, charter losses, losses of personal property by Americans taken prisoner by Germany, and debts of Germans to Americans. Many claims promise to be contested by Germany."

The American representatives are prepared to oppose any bulk award of damages growing out of the Lusitania sinking insisting upon an individual award to each interest proving actual damage or loss.

Under a bulk award, the proceeds would have to be divided pro-rata on the amount of such claim and it is believed that such procedure might entail sharp reductions in individual recoveries.

Harding May Try To Have Other States Endorse Dry Act

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1923 By The Portsmouth Times)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Will President Harding undertake a campaign of persuasion in the state of Massachusetts and Maryland to bring about the passage of state laws so that the federal prohibition act may be concurrently enforced by those states?

The president's unprecedented step in joining the movement to have Governor Al. Smith to veto the bill passed by the New York state legislature, repealing the state enforcement act on prohibition has raised the question of what aid the federal executive might give toward solving the situation in the two other states where no other assistance is being given in the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

Revocation Decision

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The treasury today revoked its decision of two weeks ago declaring exempt from income taxation corporation dividends distributed out of profits or earnings accruing prior to March 1, 1922.

The ruling, officials said, would have resulted in the refunding of many million dollars in taxes.

Brockton Shoe Strike Spreads

BROCKTON, MASS., May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Nearly 2,000 shoe workers voted yesterday to join the strike precipitated last week by the dressers and packers' local. This brought the number of strikers to 5,360, according to available figures. Those voting were the cutters and the skivers.

Bryan Urges Total Abstinence Pledge For All Presbyterians

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—William Jennings Bryan is expected to introduce a resolution at today's session of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States which provides that every Presbyterian minister, teacher, student and official in schools of the denomination sign a pledge of total abstinence.

The proposal which Mr. Bryan placed before a "popular" meeting yesterday held under the auspices of the committee on Sabbath observance and prohibition and public morals, received the unanimous approval of those in attendance.

Other important business to come up at today's session includes the report of the committee on bills and resolutions which has charge of the case of Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, who has questioned the virgin birth of Christ and the miracles he is credited with performing.

Presbyterians at Indianapolis approve William Jennings Bryan's proposal that all ministers and members of Presbyterian faith and members of colleges and schools of all faiths, their teachers and pupils take the pledge of total abstinence.

Butler Scored By Anderson

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, who now is abroad, was attacked last night by William F. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, speaking in Calvary Baptist Church.

"Dr. Butler," Mr. Anderson said, "has launched a new tirade against prohibition. There is a report that he has a secret reason for his venom. 'Will Dr. Butler ask the United States attorney for the southern district of New York to state publicly the amount of truth in the report that Dr. Butler's own personal plumage has been ruffled sufficiently with respect to the enforcement of the law to intensify the vitriol already in his disposition on this question?'"

Mr. Anderson quoted Dr. Butler as saying in an interview:

"The prohibition mania is the most violent and obnoxious form of intolerance that I have ever known. It has no regard for the constitution save the Eighteenth Amendment, and no regard for law save the Volstead act."

Gouraud To Visit U. S.

PARIS, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—"I want to go to the place where your wonderful soldiers were bred," said General Gouraud in announcing his acceptance of the invitation of the 42nd division to attend its annual reunion in Indianapolis, in July. He expected to sail for America about the end of June. In talking of his forthcoming visit he exhibited the enthusiasm of a school boy preparing for a holiday.

"I have heard and read so much of America, and now I am going to see it," he declared. "Ah, it will be delightful."

General Gouraud was one of the heroes of Chateau Thierry. He had charge of the French forces during the July (1918) fighting and was commanding officer of the Forty-Second Division, as well as a number of other American units.

Klansmen Visit Church

COLUMBUS, O., May 21.—In the midst of the services of the church of Christ at New Holland last night nine men wearing the garb of the Ku Klux Klan entered the church and presented the pastor, Rev. F. Shaw Accused Of Setting Fire To House Occupied By Wife; Held On Arson Charge

The destruction by fire Saturday night of a frame house situated at the head of Odle Creek on lands embracing the Roosevelt game preserve, owned by the state, was followed by an investigation which resulted in the arrest of John Marion Shaw, 67 years old, yesterday afternoon on a charge of arson. Shaw, who is a native of that section, was taken into custody at the home of Charles Breech on Odle Creek by Deputy Sheriff Carl Schneider and Game Protector Frank Voorhies and on being brought to the county jail the prisoner in a statement to Sheriff Harry M. Dunham and other officers, they claim, admitted that he burned the building. It is claimed that domestic troubles between Shaw and his wife, Ora Shaw, which resulted in the wife leaving him and moving into the house a couple of weeks ago, furnished the husband with the motive for destroying the structure together with the furniture and household goods of his helpmate.

In his confession Shaw told the officers, they say, that he purchased a half gallon of coal oil which he used in starting the fire, declaring that he poured the oil on some papers near the foot of his wife's bed and set fire to it, remaining there until the flames were burning briskly and then left going back down Odle Creek to the church where a meeting was in progress. Arriving at the church, Shaw said that he stepped into the doorway and inquired "what building is that burning?" to which his wife replied, "I don't know unless it's my house." He stated that he went back to the scene of the fire and after remaining there only a few minutes returned to the church and from there went to Charles Breech's home where he was arrested. Shaw claimed he started the fire between seven and eight o'clock.

The destroyed house was formerly owned by a man named Mills and it was valued at $1,000, which with the furniture and belongings of Mrs. Shaw brings the loss up to about $2,000.

On being arraigned before Squire George S. Morgan Monday on an arson charge, the accused through Attorney Horace L. Smith pleaded guilty and waived examination to the grand jury. Bond was fixed at $2,000 and in default of which the defendant was remanded to jail.

According to the arresting officers friends of Shaw started a demonstration when the accused was taken into custody yesterday and for a time serious trouble was in sight and the officers had to threaten others with arrest before they were permitted to leave with their prisoner without further molestation.

A bottle of moonshine liquor was found in Shaw's pocket when searched and he will be required to meet an additional charge of possess- ing the fluid unlawfully.

13 Kiddies Crawl Out Of France Car; Which Figured In Accident On West Side

When a machine owned and driven by Joseph France, a steelworker, 1210 Eleventh street skidded off the West Side Road near Dry Run Sunday after- noon and turned over on its side in a ditch motorists, who happened along at that time thought Mr. France had a portion of the Children's Home kiddies out for a ride. He had his wife and their 13 children in the car as the kiddies emerged from the car, one by one, it was seen that none had been injured seriously, sev- eral suffering minor scratches and cuts. Mr. France said today that the accident was caused by the slippery condition of the road and the fact that he just recently learned to drive a machine.

Bennie Brought Back

Thomas P. Bennie, former local electrician, arrested in Los Angeles, Cal., was returned to Portsmouth Sunday by Sheriff Harry M. Dunham and Firman Gilliland, to answer to an indictment brought against him for alleged abandonment of his two minor children. The accused is in the county jail pending his arrange- ment before Judge Thomas.

While in Los Angeles Sheriff Dunham saw two former Portsmouth citi- zens, Jack Leeds, a former policeman, and Russell Scrump, who was em- ployed as a clerk in various stores. He was unable to find Gus Hoemer and others of the Portsmouth colony now living in the California city be- cause of the limited time he had there.

Rena After Prisoner

Robert Rena, deputy sheriff, left early Monday for Springfield to re- turn to Portsmouth A. J. Gable, who is wanted here to answer to a com- plaint sworn out by John P. Dudley, in charge of the railroad Y. M. C. A. at East Portsmouth, charging him with obtaining $25 under false pre- tensions. Gable was arrested by the Springfield authorities at the in- stance of Sheriff Dunham.

Complaints Dismissed

William Estep, Houston Hollow farmer, charged with pointing fire- arms at Alfonso Wiley, at a hearing before Squire George S. Morgan, Mon- day, was dismissed by the magistrate for lack of convincing evidence, and the complaint against Wiley for al- leged trespass was likewise dismissed for lack of jurisdiction because title to land was raised.

The charges, filed by one against the other, grew out of a row staged Saturday over the right to harvest a crop of strawberries growing on land under lease. Wiley claimed that Estep made a gun play during the altercation in an effort to drive him out of the berry patch, but his state- ment was flatly denied by Estep.

Salvers, Alise Penix Made Defendant

Alleging cruelty, neglect and in- fidelity, Katherine Davis Salvers, Cin- cinnati, is seeking divorce and re- storation to her maiden name of Davis, in an action filed in the Ham- ilton county courts against Chester Salvers, known also as Chester Penix, formerly of this city, whom she mar- ried at Covington, Ky., April 23 last.

In her petition filed through Attor- neys Kilgarriff and Kilgarriff, Cin- cinnati, the plaintiff says that prior to their marriage the defendant ad- vised her he had in bank the sum of $2,100 and promised her he would set up a home, with all necessary and de- sirable equipment, including an au- tomobile, but she complains that after the actual marriage he took her to a rooming house where they lived at her expense, claiming that she ad- vanced $70 out of her own funds for this purpose after Salvers, alias Penix, acknowledged that his ante- nuptial statement of his money worth was incorrect. The wife further claims that the defendant paid undue attention to lewd women in her pres- ence at the rooming house and says that he quarreled with her and finally ordered her to pack her clothes and vacate.

The above is just another of the many escapades in which the say Chester has figured. Penix earned quite a bit of prominence here last fall when posing as a dry detective he spent several weeks in jail for violating the liquor laws and on his release was reported to have enlisted in the regular army at Ironton. He has a wife and child living at 1406 Kinross street and the wife instituted divorce proceedings against him shortly after he left the city.

COLUMBUS, O., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—J. J. Saslarsky, assistant state adjutant of the Amer- ican Legion today filed a report with the state adjutant of an investigation for preparation of burial of the body of Douglas Gallier, of Bowling Green, who died recently at the Na- tional Military Home at Dayton, in which he finds that reports that the body was not properly prepared for burial, are without foundation.

Carl W. Gallier, a brother of the deceased, had charged that an in- proper casket was used, that the body was improperly prepared and that no flag had been used on the casket. He had the body re-prepared and another coffin furnished by a Bowling Green undertaker at a cost of $200 and with a total funeral cost of between $500 and $600.

Not To Sue Stillman

NEW YORK, May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Florence Lewis, former show girl who figured with her little son, Jay Leeds in the Still- man divorce case in which it was es- tablished that James A. Stillman, millionaire banker, was the boy's fa- ther, today asked the Associated Press to say that she did not con- template any court action to compel Stillman to provide for her son.

Confirming reports that Stillman had abandoned her and withdrawn his support from her and her child, Miss Leeds said, "when my money gives out I can always go out and work for my boy."

She did not indicate whether she planned to return to the stage, on which she had appeared for six months before she met Stillman, or would take up some other line of work.

Miss Leeds said she had received an offer from Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, wife of the banker, to take Jay Leeds into her home and give him a chance with her own children.

While she indicated she would not accept the offer, she characterized it as a "wonderful offer" and said she was deeply touched by Mrs. Still- man's sympathetic interest.

"Mrs. Stillman knows," she de- clared, "that I was not the woman who figured in his divorce case." She did not explain this remark further.

Machine Skids Off Road Turns Over

A new sedan driven by Mrs. Oscar Herr, of 3850 Gallia avenue, New Boston, was badly damaged Sunday afternoon when it skidded off the West Side road about a mile and a half from Dry Run and plunged down an embankment, the machine resting on its top when it halted. Mrs. Herr was not injured, but her husband suffered a cut over his left eye and a severe bump on his forehead. Mrs. Herr says the accident was due to the slippery condition of the road. The car was taken to the MacDonald Black Company's garage for repairs.

Sunday School Attendance

The rainstorm Sunday morning at the Sabbath school hour put a decided crimp in the attendance, the total yesterday reaching only the 5114 figure a decrease of 4700 from a week before when Mother's Day was celebrated. Sunday's record:

SOCIETY

The Misses Savilla Smith and Dorothy Goetz delightfully entertained the members of the Silver Link Club of Trinity Church recently at the home of Miss Smith, 1416 Chillicothe Street. A feature of the meeting was a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Ronald Thomm (Florence Shirley) a bride of recent date. Election of officers for the coming year also featured the meeting. These include the following:

President—Miss Gladys Massie.
Vice President—Miss Hazel Miller.
Secretary—Miss Savilla Smith.
Treasurer—Miss Bernice Doll.
At the close of the evening the hostesses served a delicious ice cream to the Misses Hazel Miller, Bernice Doll, Ethel Johnson, Mary Massie, Grace Rowland, Gladys Massie, Nina Compton, Elizabeth Pryor, Mrs. Ronald Thomm, Mrs. Paul Crabtree and their teacher, Mrs. C. W. Weideman.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rudity and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Terrell of Twelfth street motored to Chillicothe Sunday and spent the day with relatives and friends.

Two Men Attempt To Crack Safe In The Classic; Discovered By Merchant Policemen; Fired On

While they were making their usual rounds in the downtown business district at 3:40 Sunday morning Merchant Policeman Fred and William Goltz discovered two men tampering with the safe in the Classic, Fifth and Chillicothe streets.

The yegmen evidently saw them just as soon as they stepped up to the front door as they no sooner did this than the burglars ran from the store through a rear door, which they had left open to make a hurry exit.

As they darted west on Fifth street both policemen opened fire on the two men and trailed them through the alley back of the Neudorfer and Silcox wholesale grocery, but they soon disappeared, having evidently not been wounded.

The question arises: were these two men the same ones, who recently forced entrances to the safes in the Marting Bros. store and the store of the Portsmouth Drygoods company.

Officials believe they are and another big robbery would have been pulled off had not the men been detected by the two officers.

Pete Stavros says he left his place of business at 3:25 a. m. and twenty minutes later he was notified about the near robbery. He believes that the men scouted themselves in his place of business before he closed up and left it for his room. One of the men used an ice pick in an effort to force one of the drawers of the cash register.

Merchant Policeman Wm. Goltz signed last night that the men ran so fast he could not give an accurate description of them.

suffered when knocked to the road is clearing up, his physician states. According to Taylor the lad jumped off another machine on the Towpath and ran directly into the path of his machine.

The boy's father is employed by the Portsmouth Store and Range Co.

Woman Appointed

COLUMBUS, O., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Director of Public Welfare J. E. Harper today announced the appointment of Miss Frances S. Reed, of Columbus, executive secretary of the state commission for the blind at a salary of $2,500.

Appointment of Mrs. Minnie O. Gordon, of Georgetown, wife of former Representative C. M. Gordon, as office assistant in the commission for the blind also was announced. Her salary is $1,200. Appointments were made from civil service lists.

Coal Costs Will Soar

CLEVELAND, O., May 21.—With the upward trend of labor and material costs and difficulties of mining the cost of coal must steadily rise in the future, J. Kruttschnitt, chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific company in an address prepared for delivery here today at the fifteenth annual meeting of the International Railway Fuel Association.

Mr. Kruttschnitt outlined the following methods in which he said it seemed that the hope of the future for conserving coal lies:

1. Substituting hydro-electric current for steam.
2. Substituting steam turbines or compound condensing or turbine condensing engines for the simple engines now used on our locomotives.
3. The discovery of a cheap, high gravity fuel oil than can be used in some such engine as it is used on automobiles and airplanes.
4. Reduction of the weight of Diesel engines sufficiently to permit of their use as locomotive engines.
5. The development of a satisfactory variable speed transmission gear, to couple the Diesel engine to the driving wheels of a locomotive.

COLUMBUS, O.—For the first time in the history of the exhibition, a competition of milk goats has been arranged for this year's Ohio State Fair.

W. S. HARRIS RESIGNS AS C. OF C. MANAGER

Manager W. S. Harris of the Chamber of Commerce today tendered his resignation as manager of that organization. Announcement of his action was contained in the following letter:

To the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of Portsmouth, O.

Gentlemen:

I herewith present my resignation as Manager of the Chamber of Commerce to become effective June 1, 1923.

Furthermore, I desire to express my appreciation for the exceptional cooperation and support I have received from all directors in the past and sincerely accord the organization my best wishes for a successful future.

Respectfully submitted,

W. S. HARRIS

Mr. Harris has been connected with the civic and commercial interests in the Peerless City for the past six years. He came here as secretary of the old Board of Trade and later when the various business organizations were consolidated into one as a Chamber of Commerce he continued in the position of secretary and was later made manager.

Mr. Harris has no plans for the future. His health has not been of the best for sometime and he intends to take a rest.

Van Meter Case Was Talk Of Neighborhood

Had Suffered Ten

Tanlac, Declares
Cleveland Resident—
Now Feels As Well
As Ever In Her Life,
She States.

"If I could only have had Tanlac ten years ago, what suffering—and money, too—it would have saved me!" recently said Mrs. Olga Van Meter, 1383 W. 28th St., Cleveland, Ohio.

This grand medicine has certainly lifted a burden from my mind. Why not only has it relieved every ailment, but I've gained ten pounds, and my friends all say I'm looking fine.

"It almost makes me shudder to think how I have suffered from indigestion, biliousness, nervousness, headaches and dizzy spells. If I set my heart on enjoying a good meal, indigestion nearly always robbed me of that pleasure, and loss of appetite and sleeplessness got me so weak and run-down I often wondered of mornings how I would ever get through the day."

"Well, the Tanlac treatment has been wonderful for me. I am eating and sleeping fine now and feeling as strong and well as if I'd never been sick. Tanlac will always have my deepest gratitude."

Tanlac is so safe by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 67-million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation.

Second Presbyterian News

Prayer meeting will be conducted as usual in the chapel of the church on Wednesday evening. This is one of the most helpful services that the church offers, and all are given a cordial invitation to attend.

At the Communion, Service last Sunday morning, three new members were publicly welcomed into our church: Mary Anna Stoll, 1384
Hutchins Avenue, and Joseph Frederick Cook, 1113 Kline's Lane, who were received on Confession of their faith, and Fred Ray Secord, 1308
McConnell avenue, who was received on reaffirmation of his faith in Jesus Christ. A hearty welcome is hereby extended them to the fellowship of our church, and it is hoped that they will increasingly enjoy their service for the King.

The Boy Scouts will meet tonight at 7:00 o'clock, and all boys are urged to come in order that arrangements can be made concerning the Memorial Day parade.

Madame Taknase will be the guest of honor at the Japanese meeting of the Westminster Circle Thursday night, May 24th, at 7:15 o'clock. All the girls of the church (ages 12 to 20) are cordially invited. An attractive evening of American games and songs has been gotten up to entertain our foreign guest. Owing to the sickness of this Oriental lady, Madame Taknase will not appear until the social part of the evening. The meeting will be held in the Primary room of the church, and all members are urged to present three grains of rice upon entering. Please come, old and new members, and have a grand time at our meeting.

Daily Vacation Bible School will be conducted in the chapel of our church from June 11th to the 14th of July, under the direction of the Minister's Assistant. This is to be conducted independently by our own church.
Several teachers will be needed from our young people. Fervent prayers and the earnest co-operation of all will make this a record year for our school.

Accepts Call To La Grange, Ohio

Little Talks on GOITRE
by SANO-BARK L.C.
COLUMBUS, OHIO

When the thyroid gland enlarges to the extent that it bulges in the neck it has begun to attain a considerable size. In a normal state its weight is about one ounce. It consists of two large pear shaped lobes and a small lobe or isthmus connecting the two. Each of the large lobes are about two inches in length, one inch in width and one inch in thickness near the middle of the lobe; therefore, when the neck is enlarged to the extent of being noticeable the thyroid gland may be increased one-third or one-half its normal size. Many people seem to be of the impression that the bulging of the neck is caused by a foreign growth of some character, which may be removed by an operation. This is wrong. The enlargement is due to the increase in size of the thyroid gland itself, similar to the enlargement of the enlargement of the hand or foot or any other part of the body when in a diseased condition. If you had a diseased and swollen hand or foot would you neglect it? No. Then why neglect this diseased thyroid gland which regulates and controls your physical and mental state of health?

Dear Dolly—I was visiting in Ironton not long ago and I read in one of the papers up there that there was talk of building a city at Franklin Furnace, and if they did, Ironton was going to annex Portsmouth. Do you think they will ever do this? Dolly, why doesn't Portsmouth get busy and annex Ironton and everything between here and there? I would hate to be tacked onto the tail of Ironton. If they ever do that I think I will move over to South Portsmouth.

DISGUSTED WIFE.
I don't think he is in love with them, or they with him, and I don't think you have any cause for jealousy, unless you can furnish a better reason than the one you mentioned. Men and women, married and single, can talk over for hours, and not be in love with each other. You don't know much about the ways of the world or you would know that business men and women are not in the habit of falling in love with each other, and they usually have something more important to talk about than "sweet nothings." They could have an important subject under discussion that would take an hour or two to rehash, which would be perfectly all right, so far as they were concerned, even if it did make someone jealous. Perhaps if you were a good listener, your husband would work out on you and get some of the surplus gossip or gab out of

Dear Dolly—I see by the paper where it is now a penitentiary offense to make moonshine, and that is as it should be and I hope they will make an example of the first offender and send him to the pen, but I think the law-makers have sidestepped their power when they did not make a law to send speakeasies and careless automobile drivers to the penitentiary also. I really think the reckless automobile driver is a greater menace to the country than the bootlegger. There are more lives endangered by being run down by automobiles than by bootleggers. The bootleggers only menace the lives of those directly concerned, but no one's life is safe when a reckless driver starts out on a wild ride. They are allowed to race up and down our public streets in a crime and a disgrace, and I think that the officials who fail to put a stop to this dangerous practice are just as guilty of the crime of running down pedestrians as the driver of the car. Of course some accidents are unavoidable when children or grown-ups step into the pathway of a car, but it is the drivers who race up and down the streets and highways at the rate of forty to fifty miles an hour and get away with it. Now I hope some one will take enough interest in this matter to see that something is done to stop speeding, not only in the city, but the whole country. New Boston is trying to stop it by fining the offenders. Why don't Portsmouth do something?

INDIGNANT READER.
I agree with you that reckless drivers are one of the worst things we have to contend with at the present time, but most of the reckless ones are drunk or half crazy with moonshine, so if we ever eliminate the hooch, we'll probably get rid of most of the speeders.

PROGRESSIVE READER.
I think the market should be moved, but I'd rather let someone else decide where to hold it.

There are so many ways to serve Kellogg's Bran—the one great aid to humanity!

You will enjoy eating Kellogg's Bran because its nut-like flavor appeals to the taste. And, think what each mouthful is doing to drive constipation out of your system and to re-establish health! That's because it is ALL BRAN. Kellogg's Bran is scientifically made to relieve suffering humanity—IT WILL DO THAT AS NO OTHER FOOD CAN!

Physicians recommend the regular use of Kellogg's Bran for mild or chronic cases and as a preventive. Bran, eaten each day and in proper quantity, sweeps, cleanses and purifies the alimentary tract.

Get away from pills and cathartics—Kellogg's Bran will give you permanent relief from constipation.

Do not confuse Kellogg's Bran with common bran. Kellogg's is cooked, crumbled and ready to serve. It can be used in the most delightful baking products without in any way reducing its regulatory value. Try raisin bread or muffins or griddle-cakes made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each package.

Kellogg's Bran is nationally eaten for health's sake as a cereal—in winter time with hot milk. Others prefer it sprinkled over hot or cold cereals. Another way is to mix it with hot cereals just before serving. It can also be cooked with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran for each person; in chronic cases as much with each meal.

Kellogg's Bran is sold by all grocers and is supplied in individual packages at first-class hotels and clubs. Ask for it at your restaurant!

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Evans of City View delightfully entertained at dinner recently in honor of Mrs. J. S. Hibner, of New York City, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Robert Lawyer, of 3225 Rhodes avenue, New Boston. The table was beautifully appointed for the occasion and places were marked for the following guests:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ferry and son Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason and son Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. George Clifford, of Portsmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawyer, of New Boston, and her sister, Mrs. J. S. Hibner of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Evans and daughters, Catherine and Virginia. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing bridge and Five Hundred, with Mrs. Robert Lawyer and Mrs. Charles Ferry winning high and low score.

The Haverhill Grange gave a delightful shower Friday evening at Grange Hall, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. George E. J. who received many very beautiful and useful gifts with which to make their home attractive. Elegant light refreshments were served to a large number of guests.—Ironton Register.

The Argonne Bridge Club will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Brandel, 1229 Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Roth and Miss Evelyn DeVoss of Robinson avenue and Miss Alice Gore of 148 Third street have returned from a week-end motor trip to Wooster, Ohio, where they went to visit Miss Katherine Roth and to attend the Color Day exercises at the University of Wooster. Miss Roth, Miss Evelyn Kimble and Mr. Howard Lowry of this city were among those taking part in the Crowning of the May Queen, which was one of the most important events in connection with the festivities.

An interesting wedding that will come as a delightful surprise to their many friends was solemnized Saturday evening when Miss Martha (Lore) one of the beautiful daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Clare of Scioto Trail became the bride of Mr. Arthur Vonderembse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vonderembse, of 1523 Eleventh street.

The young couple motored to Catlettsburg, Ky., Saturday afternoon and the ceremony was performed at the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal church with the pastor, Rev. Walter B. Foley, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Vonderembse returned to this city later in the evening and are now at home to their friends at the residence of the groom, where they will reside temporarily.

Mrs. Vonderembse in the derelict has been employed in the office of Dr. T. N. Nuncumaker on a responsible position with the Corporation.

At the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Mount Pleasant church tomorrow at the church, a special feature will be the presentation of "I Think When I Read That Street Story of Old," which will be read by Miss Elizabeth Jordan.

Mrs. Henry Burton will be the soloist. All members of this society are cordially invited to be present.

Tomorrow evening the Local Helpers Class of the First Christian church will meet in the basement of the church for their regular monthly meeting. Business of importance will be transacted and all members are urged to be present.

The following article from the Athens Daily Messenger of Wednesday, May 16, will be read with interest as Miss Duls is the talented daughter of Mrs. Ella M. Duls of Moulton Place:

New teachers will include Miss Dorothy Duls of Portsmouth, who will teach Spanish and French at the High School next year. Miss Duls was honor pupil in High School and will complete her college course at the Ohio University in three and one half years, with honors in all studies. She graduates in June from the University, and comes from Athens High highly recommended by all instructors under whom she studied.

Mrs. Frank Schmidt of 816 Washington street will entertain the members of Mrs. Lucy Schleifer's Sunday School Class of the Evangelical church tomorrow evening. A full attendance is urged.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton
DOWN THE MAGIC STEPS

"It's queer!" said Nick. When we were outdoors the sun was shining.

DOWN the magic steps into Raggy Land went Mister Tatters, followed by Nancy and Nick, whose magic shoes had made them as small as the fairies themselves. All the other Raggles came trooping after, a funny looking crowd in their queer odds and ends of clothes.

But then what was the use of them dressing up when they had so much scrubbing to do for everybody? When they were all inside, Raggy carefully closed the trap door overhead, shutting out all daylight. But instantly a soft light penetrated the darkness, for a million glow-worms turned on their lamps.

"Make yourselves quite at home, my dears," said Mister Tatters. "You may stay as long as you wish as long as you are careful not to rub the magic smudges off your noses. The trouble is that you may get caught in a rain storm and if you are not extra careful, the rain will wash them off—the smudges, I mean—not your noses."

"Rain?" exclaimed Nancy and Nick together. "Down here under the ground?"

"Of course," smiled Mister Tatters. "The ground is as porous as a sieve and the rain drops right through there! I feel a drop right now. I'll run and get you each a tondost umbrella."

Away he went, returning quickly with an umbrella in each hand. "Here you are," he said. "It's queer!" said Nick. "When we were outdoors the sun was shining. Now we're under the sun's shining."

"That's right," nodded the little fairy man. "But here we are talking when there is a whole carload of work to be done."

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — THE FLYING HORSE

No sooner was he safe and sound than Flighty crawled back to the tail of the Flying Horse. Jack noticed this and shouted, "Don't go back there. It's dangerous. I nearly fell off this horse's tail myself." Flighty just laughed and kept on going. Finally he reached the end of the tail.

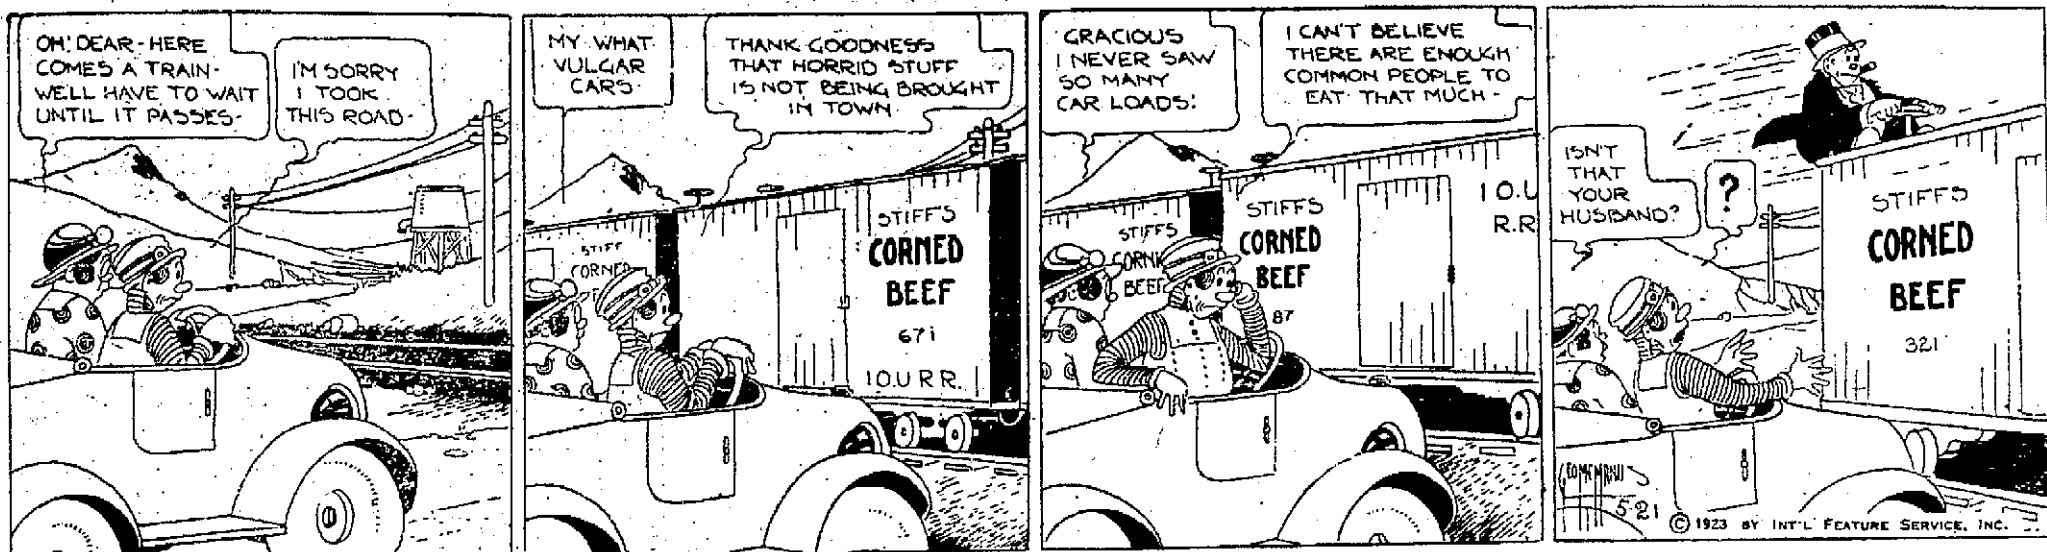

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — THE FLYING HORSE

Jack leaned far over, expecting to see Flighty fall out into the air. Instead, he merely saw the little fellow starting to bridle the animal's tail. "What are you doing that for?" asked Jack. "Oh," replied Flighty, "I'm fixing this tail so that there will be no more danger of falling off of it."

FIRST PHOTOGRAPHS OF SCHOOL FIRE THAT KILLED 76 AT CLEVELAND, S. C.

SMOKING RUINS WHERE SCHOOL VICTIMS DIED IN FIRE

First picture taken at the scene of the South Carolina tragedy after bodies of 76 persons had been taken from the smoldering debris. Complete destruction of the schoolhouse is shown, only a few piles of bricks remaining.

Boy Mourner With His Shrouded Dead

Shrouded bodies of his father, mother and two sisters lay about Thompson Davis, 17-year-old Cleveland, S. C., boy as he sat under a tree in the cemetery. His two dead sisters were 12 and 14, and the orphaned youth, who was not in the school when the fire disaster occurred, is left with a 9-month-old brother and three small sisters, two, five and six years old.

Harding

The impression conveyed by Mr. Harding in his letter made public this week is that New York state is committing a sin of gross magnitude in deserting the states who are pledged to complete the Volstead by specific state and local laws. It was the first time an expression had come from the chief executive which could be construed as the exertion of federal influence in getting state laws passed or strengthening existing statutes. Neither Massachusetts nor Maryland have ever gone so far as to put into effect any enforcement legislation. In fact in the election last fall the Massachusetts voters refused by a majority vote to sanction such a measure. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican leader of the senate was on the "wet" side but not a critic of the federal government. He was the only senator to come from the White House, in fact the Washington administration sent speakers to Massachusetts to help Mr. Lodge win.

Despite the referendum last fall, the legislature of Massachusetts passed a law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicants except as it might be sanctioned by legal permit of the federal government. In this law is being held in abeyance and can be kept from ever being enforced simply by means of another referendum which the "wets" are already planning for next fall so Massachusetts is without an effective enforcement act at present.

Maryland, of course, is more of a Democratic state than is Massachusetts but it is near enough to the national capital for the federal government to be aware of the effects of a situation in which no state enforcement act helps the federal government. Still no word has been said to Maryland about passing an enforcement law by the president; indeed the governor of Maryland did not respond enthusiastically at all to the request made by Mr. Harding for his cooperation at the time the first conference of governors was called to help enforce prohibition and so far as known no rebuke went forth from the federal government.

Until this week it had been supposed that the reason for this hands off policy was the traditional caution about interfering in the sovereign rights of states. Only when the letter from Mr. Harding about New York state's threatened withdrawal of cooperation became public did it become apparent that the chief executive might go further than he has in the past. This has led to the belief that Mr. Harding has committed himself so strongly to the issue of strong enforcement laws in the states that he may feel justified in using the moral force of his position in the hope of making the American Union 100 per cent dry, legislatively speaking. Local political situations may interfere but before the 1924 Republican national convention platform is written, the party leaders will be asked to put in the national platform on appeal to the Republican party throughout the nation to urge the enforcement by the states of prohibition concurrently with the federal government as provided for in the eighteenth amendment. What the governors may say about it is, of course, another matter, but the direction of executive effort just now appears to be to make the enforcement of prohibition by the state a uniform objective. Before the president goes to Alaska, he will express his views in person to the conference of governors from all states.

To Demand Facts Of Wood

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Representative Feyer, Wisconsin, announces that he will introduce a congressional resolution calling on General Wood of the Philippines for the facts in face of published charges that Senators, representatives and others high in Washington social life have taken pay from the Philippine independence mission.

No Religious Burial Rites

MOSCOW, May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The body of Vladimir Vorovsky, the Soviet representative at the Lausanne conference, who was assassinated on May 10, was buried last evening beside the walls of the historic Kremlin. A crowd that packed the great square, and overflowed into the streets beyond, gathered in the bright sunshine of the summer evening to witness the simple funeral rites. His grave is beside that of John Reed, former leader of the communist party of America. There was no religious note to the ceremony. Tribute to the dead man was paid by Acting Premier Kamenev, Foreign Minister Tchitcherin and M. Zinoviev, chairman of the executive committee of the Third International.

More than 100,000 persons escorted the body from the railroad station to the square. The oak casket rested on a brilliant white catafalque drawn by black horses in red harness and followed by three carts heaped with flowers.

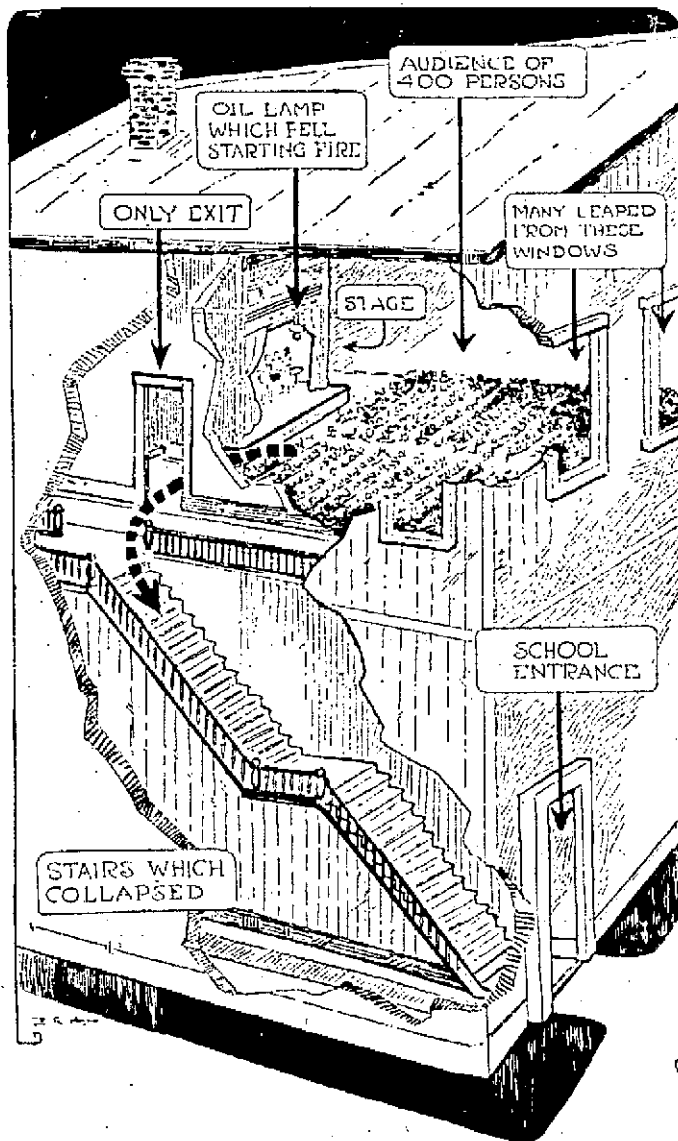

"Here we take oath to carry on the same struggle for the interests of the proletariat that Vorovsky carried on during his life," said M. Tchitcherin. "We will use all our power, to prevent the blood of Vorovsky from turning into the river of blood of the proletariat the imperialists are craving. We want peace, but we are ready to repulse any one coming to deprive us of independence and liberty," he concluded.

HOW FIRE OCCURRED

"Topsy Turvy" schoolroom comedy, became a grim tragedy when 76 men, women and children, lost their lives in the fire which swept the little Cleveland, S. C., schoolhouse while commencement exercises were being held.

Two acts of the play had been presented. The audience, consisting of proud mothers, fathers, relatives and friends, was chatting happily about the success of the performance. Backstage the young student actors were receiving the congratulations of their teachers and principal. They were all ready to go on with the big scene.

Suddenly one of the oil lamps fell and smashed on the floor of the improvised stage. As it exploded, blazing kerosene splashed on the crowd. Flames licked the flimsy props and the curtains that served as scenery. Child actors tried to stamp them out. But the fire spread too rapidly.

In a twinkling there was a rush for the door—the only way out. Some succeeded in getting through the narrow hall and down the wooden stairs. But as the crowd jammed on the landing, the weight became too great; and the stairs collapsed.

Some were impaled on the jagged bits of banister left standing; others were crushed by the bodies of those falling on top of them; most were burned.

A few leaped from the second-story windows. But most of those who perished were trapped in the room where they sat. Efforts of those who escaped to aid those still in the building were, for the most part, fruitless. Several fathers who reached the open and returned to seek their children who had been on the stage, were burned to death trying to rescue them.

Awaiting A 40-Foot Grave

Some of the shrouded dead lying in the cemetery after the schoolhouse fire at Cleveland, S. C., most of the bodies being buried in one big community grave measuring 40 feet.

Greater Hazards For Bootleggers Who Operate In Buckeye State

COLUMBUS, O., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Bootleggers who ply their trade in Ohio do so under greater hazards today than they did last week, for the Bender law, regarded as one of the most drastic prohibition enforcement measures on the statute books, today became effective.

Outstanding provisions of the act are: "That the act of furnishing liquor which results in death, shall be punishable as second degree murder, with life imprisonment."

"That the manufacture of distilled liquor shall be classified as a felony, punishable with penitentiary sentences of from one to five years and fines of from $500 to $5,000."

"That the man who solicits the sale of intoxicating liquor is equally guilty with the man who sells it."

Sulphur Clears A Pimpley Skin

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream—advertisement.

Drive On Fake Stocks

COLUMBUS, O., May 21.—Seeking to curtail the sale of worthless securities in Ohio, the Ohio farm bureau today launched a campaign which is to be extended to all the counties of the state.

Through the investigation service of the bureau operating under direction of the federation and which has branches in twenty-two counties made up of civic organizations, banks, building and loan companies, and other business concerns, the securities salesman is to be required to fill out a questionnaire before those participating in the movement will buy his wares.

The questionnaires, thousands of which have been mailed to the county organizations, contain about fifty questions dealing with the financial status of the companies represented in his securities. These would be filled in and submitted to the investigation service bureau which would pass on the value of the securities.

Plan For Reorganization Of C. Of C.

Bryan's Defeat Attributed To Presbyterian Desire To Avoid Open Break On Doctrinal Question, Says Rev. Evans

After an extensive study of the future for a Chamber of Commerce in Portsmouth, a committee consisting of C. E. Dowling, Robert G. Bryan and Adam Frick, today completed their report which is to be submitted to the board of directors. Their job was to consider the future policy of the Chamber of Commerce, and the rules and bylaws under which the same should be reorganized and conducted.

One new feature was a reduction in the amount of membership fee from $25 to $15 per year. Another important change planned is the occupation of smaller quarters to lessen the amount of expense in conducting the organization.

The committee's report follows: "The Directors holding over are Messrs. Bryan, Dillon, Harold, Bode, Gableman and Frick. Mr. Bragdon resigned from the new board and Stewart and Williams from the former election. You now have six directors. To come into the regular order, should you decide to name ten, there would be four to elect at your next election. These with the six now serving, for one year yet, would provide the new number of ten.

Your organization providing for very expensive quarters which seat-ter over a large area with prevailing salaries and taking care of the automobile and retail interests, invite the following suggestions:

That the equipment of the Chamber be re-located into the Sixth street section of the building. Vacating the Gallia street room would permit renting this section to some suitable person, that the lessor would appropriate, he advised a member of the committee that he would grant consent thereto. Your rent charge being three hundred dollars per month with a credit of sixty dollars from the upper rooms. Should the vacated lower room bring a rent of one hundred and fifty dollars per month this would reduce your rent to ninety dollars per month. If the lower room can be rented for two hundred dollars per month the rent would then be reduced to forty dollars per month. Then if you could utilize the front hall-way and obtain twenty dollars per month for that space, a still further or lower rental would result.

Then it might be that the upper rooms could be placed at eighty or perhaps ninety dollars per month on a two and a half year lease and not disturb the hall-way. And, by some rearranging with some expense incurred still more rent might be obtained.

In looking over the budget of expense there seems reason to believe that the efficiency of the office could be maintained, even though there was a reduction in the salary account from the manager down. Displacement of four or five phones will conserve four or five dollars per month. The concentration of space, will, of course, economize in both light and heat.

It is possible to make a charge for the space that is provided for the automobile association, and if so there would be a further saving in expense to the Chamber.

Under economic control your expenses should not exceed $500.00 per annum. Especially so until such time that the service of our Chamber has been enlarged and made more of value to the business and social life of the community. There can perhaps be five hundred members secured on a basis of $15.00 per annum. This number will care for all of the expenses and your budget can be balanced in a business-like manner.

In view of the findings arising out of this survey, which has revealed these prospects, we recommend that the Board charge the president with bringing about these changes and reduce expenses within the limitations name.

Respectfully submitted,
E. DOWLING,
ROBT. G. BRYAN,
ADAM FRICK,
Committee.

The committee has also recommended the following amended by-laws for adoption:

Amendment To By-Laws
Article IV—Government—The government of the Chamber of Commerce shall be vested in a board of ten directors, who shall be nominated and elected in the manner described in the By-Laws, which are hereby authorized.

Article V—Paragraph 1—The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce shall be held on the second Friday in January of each year, or as soon thereafter as such meeting is called by the directors for that purpose. The place and hour to be designated by the Board of Directors.

By-Laws
Article 1, Section 2—The membership shall be $15.00 per annum, payable in advance.

Section 4—Repeated.
Section 5—The privilege of any membership may be withdrawn by the Board of Directors by a two-thirds vote for non-payment of dues or conduct unbecoming a member.

Section 7—Any member, upon written request of the Board of Directors, accompanied by a remittance covering dues for the current year, may resign from the Chamber of Commerce.

Rev. Hugh I. Evans, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church and Messrs. T. C. Lloyd and Albert F. Harting, also members of the Second church have returned from Indianapolis where they attended sessions of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church.

The delegates reported some enthusiastic meetings at the assembly and although there are some vital questions before that body that at times brings forth some tense moments in the meetings, splendid progress is being made in the advancement of Presbyterianism.

Rev. Evans returned to the pulpit of the Second church last night and gave a stirring message to the congregation on the assembly's sessions.

The spirit of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church at Indianapolis is overwhelmingly conservative, stated Rev. Evans, yet he insisted that this body of conservative men was cautious in its approach to the questions which will be brought before the assembly by Dr. McCartney and William Jennings Bryan.

Mr. Evans took for his text last night the general assembly which met in Jerusalem in the early apostolic times. At that assembly, the elders and apostles approached their differences of opinion very cautiously and decided the question irrespective of any elements of personality that entered into it. The attempt was made to keep them from an open break with each other. In the election of President Wishart, this spirit was conservative. His father was a United Presbyterian minister and all his training has been along the line of the ultra-conservative thinking. No one who knows Dr. Wishart would accuse him of being a "liberal." Nevertheless, in his address upon accepting the highest office in the Presbyterian church, he said that the thing uppermost in his mind was "unity." Thus most in his mind was to harmonize the different factions in the church.

Evangelism is the keynote of the entire assembly and Mr. Evans closed his sermon last night with a definite statement of the purpose of the assembly to increase the power of the church and its usefulness through the preaching of the Gospel of the Cross and faith in Jesus Christ. This, he claimed, took a greater place in the minds of the members of the present assembly than did the question of doctrinal differences. The disappointment with which Mr. Bryan received his defeat was commented on by the minister when he said that it was the life so far. This was interpreted to mean that Mr. Bryan had set his heart intensely upon the cause of defeating liberalism in the church. Mr. Bryan has felt very strongly and had supposed that he had the warm backing of a majority of the church. But, although many sympathized with Bryan's position, yet they were unwilling to make a break in the church by an unfortunate presentation of the issue. While the assembly as a whole is conservative, it desires to handle its doctrinal differences without an open break or schism in the church.

Bryan Urges

Faced with dissent in their ranks over questions of Bible interpretation, the general assembly commissioners of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., today voted to continue efforts for unity between the seven leading Presbyterian churches.

The assembly endorsed previous movements toward unification, and appointed a permanent committee to carry on the effort.

A permanent commission also was appointed to conduct the campaign for a $15,000,000 addition to the endowment of the board of ministerial relief and sustentation. Will H. Hays, president of the motion picture producers and distributors of America, who launched the endowment drive in a speech last week, is slated for chairman of the campaign committee.

The assemblymen paused in their work this morning for five minutes of prayer for the safe and speedy release of the fourteen foreigners held by the Chinese bandits and for the restoration of peace in China.

The commissioners were still discussing the resolution presented by William Jennings Bryan for endorsement at yesterday's mass meeting providing that every minister, church official, church member and the presidents, faculty members and students of all Presbyterian colleges should be asked to sign a pledge of total abstinence from the use of intoxicants. The resolution is not expected to reach the assembly before Wednesday.

Tomorrow promises to be a day of fireworks on the convention floor. In the morning the committee on bills and overtures is expected to report on the overture from the Philadelphia Presbytery attacking the teaching of Harry E. Fosdick. Mr. Bryan as leader of the fundamentalist is expected to take the floor to demand an unequivocal warning to all Presbyteries to keep the so-called "liberal" or "rational" interpretations of the Bible out of their pulpits. Although no forecast of the committee's report has been made, most commissioners expect it to be a mild caution that churches should observe the confession of faith.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. Florenz Ziegfeld, 82, founder and president emeritus of the Chicago Musical, and one of the world's foremost musical educators, died at his home here yesterday of pneumonia. Funeral services will be held tomorrow with burial in a local cemetery.

Back From Meeting

N. M. Stanfield and Philip M. Watts have returned from Columbus, where they attended the spring reunion of L. D. Easton Consistory, No. 21, and the subordinate Scottish Rite bodies sitting in the Valley of Columbus.

The various degrees of the Rite including the 32nd were mastered upon a class of twenty-two Master Masons from southern and central Ohio.

At the triennial session of the United Supreme Council, A. A. S. R. for the northern jurisdiction recently convened in Philadelphia (the Grand Orient), two distinguished citizens of Columbus, members of L. D. Easton Consistory were signally honored by the supreme council. J. Lee, 33rd degree was elected secretary-general. T. E. W. Moore, 33rd degree, was crowned an active member of the supreme council and appointed its illustrious deputy in Ohio. The action of the supreme council gives L. D. Easton Consistory two active 33rd degree Masons among the possible fifty active members of the supreme council.

Weeks Pleads For Army

SAN DIEGO, CALIF., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—An earnest plea to senators and congressmen surrounding him to support action for suitably honoring officers and men of the army and navy who render conspicuous service was made by John W. Weeks, secretary of the transport grant with a large congressional navy. The secretary was making an address congratulating two such officers, Lieutenants John A. Macready and Oakley G. Kelly, of the M. Service who recently piloted the great monoplane T-2 across the continent to San Diego.

Secretary Weeks said: "There is no other country in the world that treats its officers as we do. I wish it were possible for the war department to promote one, two or three officers each year for outstanding conspicuous service."

SUNDAY RALLY DAY AT PLEASANT GREEN

Sunday was another glorious day for Pleasant Green Baptist church. The rally was a success beyond expectation with a collection of nearly $1,200 for which we heartily thank friends and members. We can't express in words our thankfulness to our many friends who so liberally contributed to our cause. One could not help but think that the days of miracles have not passed, to see how the members, whose means are limited, gave so liberally to see the new church become a reality. If there is any evidence of self-sacrifice in the world today, members of Pleasant Green surely are exponents of that characteristic. At the morning service we had with us Miss Iva Haynes of Akron, State Missionary, who sang with the sweetness that portrays her real self, to the joy of a splendid congregation. At 2:30 the K. of P. lodge was there for their Thanksgiving sermon, in large numbers, and showed a liberal spirit by giving a nice collection for the benefit of the new church for which the members feel proud.

At the evening services we had the Gospel Quartet (white) who gave us a number of selections, which were well fitting and greatly enjoyed by the large audience that packed the little church to its capacity. The church choir was par excellence and with Mrs. Zella Pfeiffer as soloist, lent enchantment to the glorious occasion. Our rally has not stopped, as next Sunday a final report will be made and plans set to keep moving upward. Rev. B. R. Reed, pastor, is in his glory to know that he is the leader of such a faithful band of Christian followers, and there is no pastor in the State more worthy of success than he whose life and soul have been put in this work. Wednesday will be the usual prayer meeting service and every member should be there to give thanks to the Lord for the blessings received. Last Friday night Mrs. Mollie Clark was given the quilt for soliciting the most money in a contest with Mrs. Mary Stanfield; both of these women are workers who stand second to none in the church and community as Christians of the highest standard, and we have many others in the church whose work is deserving of mention.

The ladies' Sunday School class made a nice contribution to the rally and are going to work for bigger things in the future. As the work on the building progresses, the spirit of the members rises to that height which assures unbounded success. Let us keep our hand in God's hand as we have been and ever receive His blessings. The following clubs were factors in our success:

The Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Ida Parker, president, Mrs. Mary Stanfield, secretary. The Bury Bee Club, Mrs. John Jones, president, Mrs. Joe Brown, secretary. The Junior Club, Mrs. Oliver Berkeley, president, Ruth Ford, secretary. Sewing Circle, Mrs. Mary Crosshaw, president, Mrs. Leah Crosshaw, secretary. Sunday School, Prof. E. M. Gentry, Supt., Ned Stanfield, secretary.

Mrs. Mary Crosshaw is eighty years old and one of the most active members of our church, having been a member for more than fifty years. Truly she can be called the mother of Pleasant Green, along with Mrs. Kitty Williams and Elizabeth Haley, who have both spent a half century in the work of the Lord.

SOCIETY

Mrs. E. C. Hood, Mrs. Howard Selhards and Mrs. Harry C. Cranston will leave Friday for Delaware, Ohio, to attend the Monnet Day exercises at Ohio Wesleyan University and to visit their daughters, the Misses Gertrude Hood, Bertha Louise Selhards and Ruth Cranston.

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Green and family of Hutchins street spent Sunday with relatives in Athens.

Mrs. G. E. Moll of 1923 Vinton avenue received word yesterday of the serious illness of her mother, who lives in Pontiac, Mich. Mr. Moll drove his wife and three children to Columbus in a little less than three hours and a half and they took the train from there to Pontiac, hoping to reach there in the least possible time.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patterson and daughters, the Misses Helen and Marjorie, and son, Tom, of Cleveland, motored here Saturday to spend the weekend with Mrs. Patterson's mother, Mrs. Harriet Seel, of Second street, and his mother, Mrs. T. M. Patterson of 2015 Franklin Boulevard. Enroute here they stopped in Delaware for Miss Helen Patterson, who attends Ohio Wesleyan University. They all returned home this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Snyder and son, Julian, and daughter, Jane Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wellman and children, Jack, Margaret, Ruth and Robert, motored to Chillicothe this morning to attend the wedding of Mr. Charles Snyder and Miss Kathryn Cecilia Southworth, which was solemnized in St. Mary's church in that city, at six o'clock this morning. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the members of the immediate families and later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Snyder left for Johnson City, N. Y., where they will make their future home. Mr. Snyder holds a responsible position with the Portsmouth Branch of the Vulcan Last Company at Johnson City.

A charming party was given at the home of Miss Grace Gulick of Twelfth street recently. The evening was spent in playing games, after which delicious refreshments of iced cream and cream puffs were served. Those entertained were: The Misses Garnetta Barlow, Jennie Carlin, Hazel Bailey, Fath and Gertrude Garrett, Irma McClara, Charlotte Turner, Florence Atkinson, Belva, Alfred and Bertha Stauffer, Jan Simpson, Nana Gillet, Ardie Soudski, Dot, George Hike, Archie Sawyer, Vernon Berry, Earl Morton, Edwin Davis, Bruce Walters, Jake Miller, Warren Evans, Emerson Carter, Allan Hardin, Oliver Morris, Edward Gulick. Mrs. Forrest Cline, Russell and Elizabeth Stauffer.

W. C. Knost of Fifth street has returned from Cincinnati, where he went to hear his son, Richard Knost, give a voice recital at the College of Music Saturday night. Mr. Knost

Complete Plans For Memorial Day

The joint Memorial Day committee, composed of committees from the different patriotic societies met at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the Carnegie library where plans were discussed and arrangements perfected for Memorial Day service.

Plans as now arranged provide for the usual religious service on the Sunday preceding Memorial Day, May 27, this year's service being held at the First Christian church, where the women will be delivered by Rev. G. A. Cullerson at 2:30 p. m. For the Memorial Day exercises, the patriotic and veteran associations will march to the cemetery in the morning where graves will be decorated and the customary services held at the circle, the Women's auxiliaries having charge of this service.

The committee is expecting an unusual number of flowers this year on account of a late spring. For this reason Chairman Earl Chandler is making a special plea that the public will be given first thought to the decoration of soldier's graves before other

Summertime Togs For Tom, Dick And Harry

The little rascals are rough and ready but even the roughest of them are always ready to get into real sensible, serviceable tub-proof summertime garments. No boy likes to tear his clothes and most of the time it isn't the boy's fault. Their clothes ought to be made good and stout and that's why we recommend Kaynee garments.

Summertime Things For The Baby

No proud mother would think of wheeling out the little tot these warm summertime days without such dainty baby clothes as our exclusive Baby Shop affords.

New Dresses, by the score, Coats, Capes and Bonnets and such Dainty Sweaters, Sacques and Booties as you could wish to see are here in great numbers. Play things too in the cute new novelties for Baby's play at home or in the buggy are to be found in our Baby Shop.

The Loveliest Of Summertime Millinery and Taffeta models and Red, Green, Sand and White shades greet you from every ease.

Come in tomorrow and look over this vast array.

Summer Things For The Baby

And the ambitions of these warm weather textiles are not to be curbed. They are coming into their own right rapidly with a vengeance and such popular fabrics as Ratines, Linens, Gingham, Voile, Swisses and Organdies cannot now be curbed in their demand for prominent attention. And you wouldn't think of refusing them the fullest attention for Summer means tub fabric time.

RATINES, imported from France in all beautiful colors at 85c yard. Domestic Ratine at 50c a yard, while we have a line of fancy checked and striped Ratine all yard wide of course at 98c a yard.

UNCURSHABLE LINEN, yard wide—you simply must have a linen dress—all colors at $1 a yard.

IMPORTED DRESS GINGHAMS, in all the wanted small checks at 50c.

GAZE MARVEL TISSUE, in a large assortment of patterns, all pretty only 55c a yard. FIGURED VOILES, in conventional designs and also King Tut patterns at the special price of 39c a yard.

RONDAC SUITING, or Smock Cloth, a fine mercerized plain color material, very popular for wash frocks at 59c.

IMPORTED DOTTED SWISS—and what could make a prettier summer dress, at a bargain price of 85c.

IMPORTED ORGANDIES, in all pretty shades, fine quality, 75c.

$5.00 To Deliver A Rug

There is bound to be a mistake now and then upon the part of somebody in an organization the size of ours, and disappointments are sure to result, but it certainly is far from the wish of the store management that anything but the best of service be rendered. Sometimes an over-enthusiastic salesperson will promise the delivery of an article at a certain time without knowing definitely that the promise can be kept, and a disappointed customer is the result. To illustrate the store's attitude on this we quote the exact remarks as made by the Vice President of the Anderson Bros. Co., when he had been informed that a woman on the West Side had been disappointed over the non-delivery of a rug she had purchased here. She had received from the salesman a promise that it would be delivered at a certain time. The salesman took it for granted that the rug would be delivered, but the delivery department was so rushed that day it could not get to the rug and the customer was disappointed. Next day she phoned in about the rug. Excuses would not count much with the Vice President who said, "We would rather have paid $5 to have that rug delivered than to have the customer disappointed."

We submit that the spirit of service as shown by that remark goes a long ways to make and hold friends for this store.

Smart Underwear At Attractive Prices!

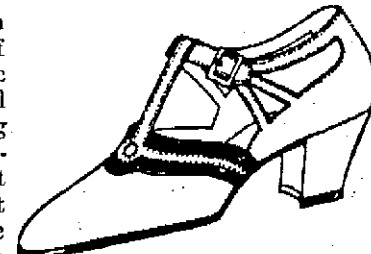

The discriminating woman, who likes to have her underwear just as up-to-date in style as her smartest frocks, will appreciate this showing of beautiful Undergarments. Designs in both silk and cotton underthings are distinctively good looking. There are tailored or lace trimmed step-ins and nightgowns in lustrous crepe de chine or radium; bloomers cut for comfort and wear; dainty two-piece sets that are appealingly lovely.

Other staples and novelties, in fine quality nainsook and shadow striped batiste include chemise, in both step-in and envelope styles, Princess Slips, Bloomers, Vests and Petticoats.

White Footwear Is Wafted In On The Zephyrs Of Summer

You're always in style in Summer if you have White Footwear and now as Spring turns into Summer and the hot weather is right at our door, to be comfortable you should have your White Footwear ready to don. New models that have recently arrived afford you an excellent selection here.

WHITE KID STRAPS, new models, washable, Welt Soles, Cuban Heel, nothing prettier on the feet, priced at $7.95.

WHITE STRAP SLIPPERS, of reignskiu cloth with White Kid trimmings, Welt Soles, Cuban Heels, beautiful model at $7.50.

WHITE REIGNSKIN OXFORDS, with Kid trimming, splendid for Sport wear, with Welt soles and Low heels, at $6.95.

WHITE CANVAS STRAP SANDALS, with fancy Patent trimming and low heels, very attractive model for only $3.50.

KING TUT SANDALS, of Patent Colt have just arrived and are marked at $5.50.

Your Straw Hat Is Awaiting You

It's high time to discard that old Winter Felt now and get under a cool stylish Straw lid. The Townsend Grace Straw Hats are here in the Sennet's, Spliffs, Italian Straw and all the fancy weaves in stiff and flexible brims, some with beautiful mixed colorings. Some of the new straws are just as comfortable to the head as the old felt hat. Big selections at $3 to $5.

Reward Offered For Alleged Murderer

The Irontonian Sunday said:

The police received a notice yesterday stating that a $500 reward would be paid by Greenup county, Ky., authorities in the person apprehending Earl Collier, indicted for the murder of Earl Gillum at Indian Run, above Russell, on May 11th inst. Collier is 27 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches high and has dark brown hair and large blue eyes. He weighs in the neighborhood of 180 pounds, and when last seen wore a brown coat and cap and blue overalls. He is heavily built and has a sturdy appearance, according to the circular.

Married In Catlettsburg

Oliver Bailey, 22, and Elizabeth McAllister, 22, both of this city, were granted a license to marry in Catlettsburg, Ky., during the past week.

ALLIANCE, O.—Seattle service between Canton and Alliance on the Pennsylvania Railroad, started in 1920 to accommodate railroad workers runs are made out of the Stock Yards at Canton, has been discontinued.

Market News

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, May 21.—Indecisive price changes characterized the opening of today's stock market. Selling pressure was resumed in some quarters, particularly in oils which yielded fractionally on initial sales.

Chemical shares showed signs of recovery from recent heaviness. Virginia-Carolina Chemical gained a point. U. S. Steel, Baldwin, Studer, and other shares were unchanged or slightly higher but soon eased off. Baldwin dropping a point below Saturday's final figure.

Strong buying support came in for California Petroleum which rallied 2 1/2 points from its early low. The preferred gain a point. Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred extended its gain to 3 points. Texas and Pacific advanced 2 points and Brown Shoe and Central Leather one each.

The rest of the list turned heavy. Kresge advanced at 233 as compared with the previous sale of 248 1/2. Crucible steel dropped 1 1/2 points, to 65, duplicating its previous low, and Pierce oil preferred also sold at its low of the year. Postum Cereal and Virginia-Carolina Chemical B established new low records. Tobacco products dropped two points and Goodrich Rubber prior preferred, American Can and U. S. Alcohol were down 1/2 point. Foreign exchange was quiet due to widespread holiday abroad. Demand for gold was unchanged at $46.25 and French francs sold around Saturday's final price of 6.66.

The indifferent support which the market received in the early dealings encouraged more aggressive tactics by the bear faction. U. S. Steel sold at 65 1/2. Many shares made new low records for the year.

Among the larger declines were: American Can and U. S. Alcohol, both down 1/2 point; Postum Cereal, down 1/2 point; and Kresge, down 1/2 point. Tobacco products, Goodrich Rubber, and American Can and U. S. Alcohol were down 1/2 point. Foreign exchange was quiet due to widespread holiday abroad. Demand for gold was unchanged at $46.25 and French francs sold around Saturday's final price of 6.66.

Among the larger declines were: American Can and U. S. Alcohol, both down 1/2 point; Postum Cereal, down 1/2 point; and Kresge, down 1/2 point. Tobacco products, Goodrich Rubber, and American Can and U. S. Alcohol were down 1/2 point. Foreign exchange was quiet due to widespread holiday abroad. Demand for gold was unchanged at $46.25 and French francs sold around Saturday's final price of 6.66.

The indifferent support which the market received in the early dealings encouraged more aggressive tactics by the bear faction. U. S. Steel sold at 65 1/2. Many shares made new low records for the year.

FOR REAL ACTION NO HEAVYWEIGHT'S RECORD COMPARES WITH DEMPSEY

It's going on four years now since Jack Dempsey was crowned "king of pugilists" following that famous fight with Georges Carpentier at Toledo, Ohio. And Judge Willis S. Gurnea, who has been in the ring since the days of the great fight between the two champions, says that no other fighter has ever been so good as Dempsey. He says that no other fighter has ever been so good as Dempsey. He says that no other fighter has ever been so good as Dempsey.

During the past 30 years the ring has seen many famous heavyweights. Take them right down the line, there are Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, Hart, Burns, Johnson and Willard. But none of them was so good as Dempsey. He was the greatest fighter since the days of the great fight between the two champions.

With his last six battles, the "Giant Killer" has taken less than 75 minutes to dispose of his opponents. Not quite an hour and a quarter to dispose of the six strongest fighters that have ever been in the ring. Look at the record: Morris, 2 minutes; Smith, 8 minutes; Willard, 9 minutes; Mike, 10 minutes; Brennan, 10 minutes; and Carpenter, 10 minutes.

Experts Give Gibbons A Chance

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, May 21.—(United Press)—Most of the money that will be wagered on the Dempsey-Gibbons heavyweight championship battle will be laid on how many rounds the challenger lasts against the champion.

With few exceptions, managers, trainers and wise fans think that Dempsey is sure to win, although many of them follow the natural inclination to back the champion because he is the champion.

If the right kinds of odds are offered, it seems certain that the fight will be taken by the followers of Gibbons that Tom will stay six to twelve rounds. This opinion will be backed on the showing Dempsey made in his last fight with slow Bill Brennan and it is expressed in the words of William A. Brady, one of the best qualified judges of boxers in the country.

"Gibbons is a clever fellow. Dempsey is not going to rush him and win with a quick knockout. If Bill Brennan was able to stall Dempsey off for twelve rounds, Gibbons, who is for a longer and more clever, certainly should be able to do at least as well. Gibbons is no easy mark. He is fast, clever, and he is a bit with both hands. Dempsey is wide open, as Brennan showed when he almost cut an ear off the champion and as Carpenter later proved when he nearly flouted him in Jersey City. One good punch might have finished Dempsey, but the Frenchman got excited and missed the second good shot. If Brennan and Carpenter could do it, why cannot Gibbons?" Brady asked.

Don Morgan, one of the ablest managers in the business, is one of the few who hold out to predict that Gibbons will win the title from Dempsey. "The champion has always been a real good man, and he's got a good, fast, hard-hitting punch. He is all of that."

MILAN, May 21.—Ermino Spalla of Italy is the new holder of the European heavyweight boxing title. He defeated Vandervoort, the Dutchman, in a 20 round bout here yesterday. Vandervoort used effectively his weight advantage of 30 pounds during the first seven rounds, but Spalla's speed throughout the remainder of the fight stood him in good stead. In the tenth the challenger had Vandervoort groggy from an uppercut, but was unable to knock him out. Forty thousand persons saw the fight.

Slicing Worries Most Golf Novices

By Mike Brady
Western Open Champion
Slicing is the bane of golfing existence for thousands upon thousands of golfers. It is really surprising how large a percentage never overcome the fault. The harder they try, the worse many of them get. The fault arises from several different causes. Probably the most common is that it is derived from a lack of pulling in the arms just as the ball is struck. That, in turn, is due to the fact that many golfers are leaning backward as they complete their stroke. Nine times out of ten the reason is that they are not well balanced at any stage of the stroke. The chances are that they are standing with legs too stiff at the start of the backswing, so that when they try to pivot they merely straighten out the left leg and almost pull it off the ground in their endeavor to get the body around. This, in itself, is enough to almost throw them completely off balance, the body can't get much of a turn, and practically all the weight remains on the right leg from start to finish of the stroke. Then as a rule the right arm goes out from the body and they bring it in as it comes down on the ball. This means coming across the ball from right to left and imparting a spin which sends the ball to the right. That left leg must not be stiff and straight on the backswing.

SUNDAY GAMES HALTED BY RAIN

J. Phivius occupied the center of the stage yesterday and the heavy rainfall early in the day prevented the scheduled meeting of the Russell aggregation and the Hays Motor nine at the Millbrook arena as well as to put a damper on activities on all other ball yards throughout this section.

As a result Manager Otha Lewis and his companions as well as the players of numerous other teams were forced to take the day off and save their energy for another occasion. It started raining early in the morning and the downpour continued until almost noon when Manager Lewis inspected the playing field and finding it a miniature lake quickly called off the combat and notified the Russell athletes to stay at home. It was a tough break for the locals as they were all set to scalp the invaders in the inaugural of the local season.

AN EFFORT will be made to induce the Russell team to fill the open date next Sunday and in the event of failure another strong club will be booked.

PECK SAYS SOME THINGS ABOUT NAT'S ROOKIE THIRD SACKER

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Roger Peckinpah, one of the greatest fielding shortstops the game has ever produced, is positive that in Orel Bluege the Nationals have one of the coming stars of the American League.

"Bluege is one of the greatest fielders I have ever worked with around third," says Peck. "The youngster has a wonderful pair of hands and is a star at going to his left. His ability to handle balls to his left is going to be a great help to me this year."

"In addition Bluege has a great arm, so necessary to a third sacker. All he needs is confidence in his own remarkable ability. When that comes he is going to make the opposition take notice and the experts say a lot of nice things about him."

"He's going to hit enough to make him a very valuable ball player. In Bluege the Washington club has a youngster who will hold down the position for years to come. If kept regularly at the job he will be a star in a couple of years. What he needs is merely the opportunity to show."

Do You Know Baseball?

by Billy Evans

QUESTIONS—
ONE—Is there any limitation as to the weight of the bat that may be used in baseball?
TWO—Is it true that the bat used by Babe Ruth weighs considerably more than that used by any other player?

THREE—When a double header is played, which game is regarded as the regularly scheduled game for that day?
FOUR—When an improper batsman makes a base hit, and the mistake is discovered before another ball is pitched, what happens?

FIVE—If the catcher interferes with the batter when a runner on third is trying to steal home, what is the proper ruling?
ANSWERS—
ONE—There is no limitation as to the weight of the bat that a player may use. He may suit his own fancy.

TWO—Ruth uses a bat that is considerably heavier than that used by most players. Cobb and Speaker use bats weighing about 37 ounces, while Ruth's bat weighs over 50 ounces.

THREE—The first game is always regarded as the regularly scheduled game with a double header on the boards.

FOUR—The proper batsman is always called out, when an act of an improper batsman is discovered in time. The improper batsman is removed from the bases.

FIVE—When a catcher so interferes, the batsman is sent to first and the runner trying to steal home is granted that base regardless of what happens.

While waiting your turn to tee off it is permissible to timber up a bit by taking several practice swings? It is customary for players while waiting their turn, to take out their clubs and indulge in several preliminary swings. It is the same principle used by ball players in carrying several bats to the plate and indulging in some practice swings to loosen up. It is permissible for a golfer to take a few swings while awaiting his turn, but great care should be used in staying far enough from the first tee not to annoy the players who are driving off. Strict etiquette forbids you to move or speak during another player's stroke.

When did Harry Vardon, famous English professional, win the United States Open?
The records show that Vardon won the United States Open in 1900 over the Wheaton course with a score of 313. J. H. Taylor, another English pro, finished second that year two strokes away from Vardon, 315.

In following a foursome, what is the proper time and distance to wait before driving off?
It is customary not to drive your ball until in your judgment the players ahead are all out of range, regardless of how many strokes they may have played. Even if their first shot appears to take them out of your range, golf etiquette demands that you permit them to play their second shot before driving off.

Next Game Is With Fullerton

The Rendezvous baseball nine accompanied by a goodly number of fans went to Fronton yesterday where they were scheduled to play the Red Rangers. The game had to be called off on account of wet grounds.

The local fans hope to get a chance at the Rangers sometime in the near future. Next Sunday the Rendezvous team plays in Fullerton.

An important meeting of the team will be held Thursday night at 7 o'clock at 4014 Rhodes avenue. Every player is urged to be at this meeting as several important matters are to be taken up. C. F. Glickert is business manager of the team and would like to hear from fans in this section. Manager Glickert lives at 1227 Third street and his phone is 1341.

FLOWING GOLD

PRINTED BY ARRANGEMENT WITH METROPOLITAN NEWS SERVICE, NEW YORK

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Calvin Gray occupies the most expensive suite in the best exclusive hotel in Dallas. He makes friends with Gus Briskow, who has struck oil and meets Allegheny, the daughter and Ozark, the son. Bob Parker, daughter of Tom Parker, comes home from college and goes into the land business. She buys for Colonel Henry Nelson, son of Bell Nelson, banker. Gray is Henry Nelson's enemy and when Gus Briskow tells of a trick that Henry Nelson works on him to beat him out of a land sale Gray takes a hand and beats Nelson in the deal.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

Of the men engaged in this shearing business, none, perhaps, had gathered more wool in the same length of time than the two members of the firm of McWade & Stoner.

One morning McWade and his partner provided themselves with some dice and several hundred dollars in gold coin. With this they began shooting craps on the sidewalk in front of their office. Now gambling was taboo, hence the spectacle of two expensively dressed gentlemen squatting upon their heels with a stack of double cased before them caused a sensation, and people halted to witness their impending arrest. Soon traffic was blocked.

Calvin Gray, but just arrived from some curiosity, not divining its purpose, until McWade pocketed the dice, then mounted a box at the curb and began, "Now, gentlemen, that is one way of making money, but it is foolish and a hazardous way. There is a much safer, safer method, and I'm going to tell you about it. Don't pass on until you hear me, for I have a most incredible story to relate, and you'll be sorry you missed it."

There was a ripple of appreciative laughter. But the crowd pressed closer as the orator continued:

"You've all heard about these 'doodle bugs' who go around locating oil with a divining rod, haven't you? And you don't believe in them. Of course you don't. Neither do I. Now then, for the plot of my story, and it will pay you to do a week of listening in the next five minutes. While ago an eminent scientist, unknown to me or to my partner, Mr. Stoner, came into our office, which is at your licks one flight up, second door to the right, and showed us an electrical device he had been working on for the last eight years. He claimed he had it perfected and that it would indicate the presence of oil on the same principle that one mineral attracts another. 'Oil is a mineral,' he said, 'and I think I've got its magnetic complement. I believe my invention will work.'

"I'll bet a thousand dollars it won't," I told him. But what do you think that pilgrim said? He took me up then, bet Stoner another thousand that I'd made a bad bet. McWade grinned in sympathy with the general amusement. 'We arranged a thorough test. We took him, blindfolded, through the field, and believe me or not, he called the turn on forty-three wells straight and never missed it once.'

McWade now introduced the miracle worker himself, and Gray rose on tiptoe to see him. A moment then he smiled widely, for the eminent scientist was none other than Mr. Mallow—Mallow, a bit pallid and pasty, as if from confinement, and with eyes hidden behind dark goggles.

Gray looked on as the comedy was played out. It transpired that Professor Mallow had been tested, among other properties, the newest McWade-Stoner lease, a company to drill which had just been formed under the title of "The Desert Scorpion," and he really judged from the behavior of his machine that a remarkable pool underlaid the tract.

Then McWade resumed his sway over the crowd, and soon shares in "The Desert Scorpion" were selling rapidly.

Shortly after lunch Mallow and the two partners were seated in the office upstairs, their work done for the day. Another successful promotion had gone to the credit of McWade and Stoner; all three were in a triumphant mood.

There came a knock at the door, and in answer to an invitation to enter it opened. The next instant both McWade and Stoner sat erect in their chairs, with eyes alert and questioning, for at the sight of the stranger Mallow had leaped to his feet with a smothered exclamation, and now stood with his back to the desk and with his head thrust in a peculiar attitude of strained intensity.

CHAPTER X
Nelson Has A Caller

"Well, well, Mallow," The caller smiled as he crossed the threshold, still wearing dark glasses, oh! I'm afraid you didn't heed my instructions."

Mallow spoke huskily. "What the hell you doing here?"

"Following the excitement, merely. I shall open an office and spend a good deal of my time in Wichita Falls. I heard you here, for your invention and—admission—overcame me. I felt constrained to congratulate you upon your scientific attainments."

"What do you want?" Mallow asked.

"Momentary agitation has robbed our Professor of his habitual politeness—a not unusual phenomenon of the preoccupied scientific mind. The words were directed at McWade and Stoner. 'My name is Gray. Perhaps Doctor Mallow has made mention of me.'

"So you're the kid that threw paper in his eyes?" Brick Stoner stared at the newcomer with undiminished interest. He rose, as did McWade. "I'll say we've heard of you. Your name's getting as common as safety razor blades. You've been cleaning up, haven't you?"

"Amn, moderately." Calvin Gray shook hands with the promoters, then to the agitated Mallow, who still peered at him apprehensively, he said: "Come, come! Let down your hammer! I need!"

"Listen, you!" the other blurted forth. "I bet that thing out, I'm clean and I don't intend to go back. You're a strong guy and you got a bunch of kyle, and you're a getter, but the taller they come the harder they fall. You can be had."

The speaker was desperate; his face was flushed with anger, the tone of his voice was defiant and threatening.

Gray helped himself to a chair, crossed his legs, and lit a cigar. McWade and Stoner neither moved nor spoke.

"My dear Mallow, you wrong me." In the newcomer's voice there was no longer any mockery. "I gave you credit for more intelligence. We played our little farce and it is done—the episode is closed, so far as I am concerned. I supposed you understood that much. I helped you and I came here to enlist your help."

"You helped me?" Mallow showed his teeth in a snarl.

Gray looked on as the comedy was played out. It transpired that Professor Mallow had been tested, among other properties, the newest McWade-Stoner lease, a company to drill which had just been formed under the title of "The Desert Scorpion," and he really judged from the behavior of his machine that a remarkable pool underlaid the tract.

THE MAKING OF LAWS

CENTURIES ago one of the fathers of the ages observed that of the making of laws there was no end.

Wonder what his thought would be if he could come back to the terrestrial globe and see what the legislative mills are turning out now!

Take congress and the state legislature together and Ohioans are living under and supposedly abiding by something like a thousand more statutes than they did a year ago. And Ohio isn't any more afflicted in this way than any other commonwealth that had an assembly in session during last winter.

Small amaze that there is such general contempt for the law. Anybody but a fool legislator would know that the people do not need anywhere from two hundred and fifty to a thousand statutes every other year.

There is no way to head the flood of legislation off, except to choke off the legislatures. These bodies ought to be elected only every ten years and called to only one session in that period, except on being summoned on an emergency set forth by the governor.

OUR GREAT PORTS

It is a rather singular fact that of the five greatest American ports three are not on the sea and two may well be designated interior cities.

In the matter of their importance the ports rank in this order: New York, New Orleans, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Port Arthur. Of course, New York runs far ahead of any other, indeed, she in combined exports and imports, is not so far from being equal to the other four put together.

It is rather peculiar, that while Port Arthur's tonnage consists almost solely of petroleum there is, with one exception more petroleum going through the others than of anything else. New York brings in 3,500,000 tons of Petroleum and sends out 1,400,000 while she handles only 2,300,000 tons of grain.

Galveston and Buffalo are the next two largest ports in the country. The first ships petroleum principally and the latter grain.

AN INDEPENDENT DEPARTMENT

GVERNOR DONAHAY has been completely defeated by a decision of the supreme court in his effort to exercise supervisory control over the state highway department, this tribunal, holding on appeal to it that the highway commissioner has entire and sole authority in the matter of improvements and the letting of contracts therefore, and his acts can neither be reviewed nor stopped, except on the ground of fraud or corruption.

While back there was so much of evil gossip, concerning road improvements drifting about the state, that purpose of the Governor to exercise supervision in regard to the highway was welcomed as the part of prudence. Defeated it is a question now as to what manner of supervision the highway commissioner will exercise.

There is ample room for difference between him and the governor, without impugnment of the honesty of the one or the sincere desire of the other to give the public better service and the most for the money exacted of it through taxes.

In considering the situation it must be had in mind that there is fierce rivalry between the material men and they are not at all scrupulous about the accusations they bring against each other or unfortunate public officials.

They tell us the cause of the abnormal chilly weather is three percent less of sunshine. That just naturally rises the query of why the three per cent less?

The governor of Colorado has shown who is governor by turning down the recommendations of Wilson, Bryan, McAdoo and all the rest of them and appointing a senator of his own choosing. Who'll say he isn't right at that? There's too much in this country of getting something because somebody recommends instead of getting it an individual desert.

Now Mr. Harding isn't going to say a word about the international court of justice, on his jaunt to Alaska, though he'll speak in forty eleven states. That jars you, to be sure.

Strange what a pessimist an office holder becomes when he finds himself out of a job. Look at Lloyd George since he was deposed as premier. He sees now the whole world awry. And we once thought Lloyd was the second greatest statesman that the world war made.

EVERETT TRUE

BY CONDO

New York-Day-By-Day

BY R. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 21—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Early up and to talk with Rupert Hughes who told zealous tales of the movie lots in California and of his intention to go there to live for several years.

Walking through the town I fell in with Will Rogers, the comic, and he with his face in court plaster having been struck with a polo mallet which is what a country lout gets for playing a rich man's game.

So home and at my scribbling and was tempted to write a poem but thought better for which the Lord be thanked, 'Came a letter, too,' from the editor of a hog journal for me to fashion a piece which is better suited to my talents.

In the evening to the Piccadilly for dinner and saw there Anna Firzli, Karl Kitchen and Mistress Dorothy, Julian Johnston, Al Stevens, Louis Mamm and others. So home to read and then to bed.

The Yellow taxi cab rush on Fifth Avenue reminds me of a sudden flood of cockroaches in an old kitchen sink. They fairly overrun the streets. In one block as traffic halted I counted 51 yellow cabs. The movement is on to limit the number to 12,000 for the borough of Manhattan. A ridiculous opposition to the plan is offered by a man who writes to the newspapers that to deprive many chauffeurs of jobs would only drive them into more brutal forms of black-jacking.

Next door to a shop where hand-made shoes are made at prices varying from $30 to $55, is a little cellar coal shop. The proprietor has a sign on reading: "I will break in your new shoes for $1.50."

There is another man in New York who specializing in aging new trunks. Patrons, especially those going abroad, have a fondness for luggage that appears travel stained. New baggage, to them, is a symbol of unsophistication.

At one of the cinema studios on Long Island a girl, who was to be the victim of a lover's wrath in a scene where she was zarotted, made an unusual request of the director. She said to bring realism to the scene she would not mind being choked into unconsciousness so long as the result would not be fatal.

There were several rehearsals, but the movie lover was quite tame in his brutality. When it came time for "shooting," the director urged more action and realism. The actor gripped her throat tighter, her eyes bulged and she whispered: "I'm a gooner."

It took 20 minutes to revive her, and for three days one limb was partially paralyzed. She is now like waru on the subject of realism. She will leave it to the expressionists.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Nothing Selfish About Her

BY CLIFF STERRETT

The recent death of Jess Dandy, the comedian, recalls the days of "The Prince of Pilsen" and his immortal query: "Was you ever in Zinzinnati?" Dandy, whose name was Danzig, toured in the comic opera for two successive years and visited every city in America of more than 15,000 population. He grew so tired of his lines that several times he tried to leave the production, but was persuaded to remain. In later years he appeared in vaudeville. He was one of the most popular actors along the Rialto and his private charities to those who had fallen on evil days were the despair of his friends. He could never keep money in his pocket and it was said he was "always good for a touch."

Doc Koko's KOLUM

Silent Still
Department store—
He stopped before
A girl with eyes of blue:
It wouldn't hurt.
He thought, to flirt—
She looked him through and through.
"Hello," he said—
She cut him dead:
She said, "You're a bum and flies."
Behind him there
The model fair
Stares with her waxen eyes.

A Rain Trap
In a time of distressing drought a harassed amateur agriculturalist stepped into a shop and bought a rain-trap. The clerk was making a few explanations about indications and pressures when the customer interrupted impatiently saying:
"Yes, yes, that's all right, but what I want to know is how you set the thing when you want it to rain."

Around the Circle
Rags make paper.
Paper makes money.
Money makes banks.
Banks make loans.
Loans make poverty.
Poverty makes rags.
—Parrakeet.

One on the Sarge
An American sergeant in Germany learned that the little town in which he was located had once been the home of Martin Luther. Desiring more information, he asked a German-speaking dough-boy to get the facts from some of the residents.
A day or so later the doughboy, writhing in merriment, went to see him.
"By gosh, that's one on you, sarge," he chortled. "That guy Luther you've been asking about? Say, that guy's been dead three hundred years."

"Fred's been glum since he was arrested for autosuggestion."
"Autosuggestion?"
"Yes, he asked a girl to go riding."
—Wisconsin Octopus.

Trouble Brewing Here

This from the program of the College Club scholarship benefit:
Harvard Man—"I've a friend I'd like you girls to meet."
Bryn Mawr Girl—"What can he do?"
Wellesley Girl—"How much has he?"
Radcliffe Girl—"What does he read?"
Vassar Girl—"Who are his family?"
Holyoke Girl—"What church does he belong to?"
Smith Girl—"Where is he?"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Zoological

At a local movie, recently one of the actors was a big chimpanzee. "Ooh, look at the bamboo!" said one woman. "That ain't no bamboo," said her companion. "That's a boom-rang."—Washington Star.

Wise Jottings
Small talk is responsible for the use of many big words.
Great men are ordinary men with their shoes carefully polished.
About the time you break in a pair of new shoes they begin to break out.
No man should pose as a theorist unless he has explicit confidence in his imagination.
Everybody sentimentalizes over the "dear old farm," except those who had to work on it.
Some men are so worthless that their wives are not a bit alarmed when they happen to cough.

Favorable Sign

"Young man, can I get into the park through that gate?"
"Guess so, lady. I just saw a load of hay go through."—Blue Hen Weekly.

Caution—Go Slow!

He—"Why do blouses creep over girls' faces?"
She—"Because if they ran they would kick up too much dust."—Parrakeet.

Awkward

"Rastus say Pabson Brown done kotch him in Farmer Smith's chicken coop."
"M-m, boy! Don't Rastus feel 'shamed?"
"Nossuh. De pabson am de one feel 'shame. He kaint 'splain how come he done 'kotch' Rastus dar."—American Legion Weekly.

Too Previous

Boss—"Sir, what does this mean? Some one just called up and said that you were sick and could not come to work today."
Clerk—"Ha, ha! The joke's on him. He wasn't supposed to call up until tomorrow."—Showme.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

REFUGE

By Berton Braley

WHEN the world is all of a golden glow,
And the blood in your veins is a tingling flow,
And joy is calling you to and fro,
Where laughter echoes and song rings true;
It's an irksome thought that you have to slave
At a task afar from the play you crave,
And often and often you rail and rave
At the daily work you've GOT to do.

HOW glad you'd be if you dared to drop

The work of office or farm or shop,
If you could only afford to stop,
Whenever the impulse hails you in
And scampers away to have your fling,
Like a capering lamb in the flush of spring;
Ah, often enough it's a wearisome thing,
The daily work that you've GOT to do.

BUT when, with sorrow and woe

and pain,
You're sick of heart and of soul and brain,
And your courage is cracking beneath the strain,
And the sullen skies are gray to view;
Ah then, you're glad that a task is there,
A rock to cling to 'mid seas of care,
And the thing that shall rescue you from despair
Is the daily job that you've GOT to do!
